Headline:
A rather cloudy start, but brightening up during the day.

Today:
A rather cloudy start with a few mist or fog patches, and perhaps with the odd spot of drizzle here and there. However, it should brighten up during the morning with some sunny spells developing. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Tonight:
Low cloud and mist will spread from the northeast this evening and overnight. Patchy drizzle developing here and there, but some clearer spells into Norfolk by morning. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Thursday:
After a cloudy start across many parts, brighter conditions with some sunny spells across Norfolk will spread east during the morning. Breezy and cooler across eastern areas. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Bright or sunny spells and a few light showers through Friday and Saturday. Sunday mainly dry with some sunny spells. Breezy and feeling rather cool in coastal areas.
